Saxophone Teacher

Thomas is a professional saxophone player, music producer & educator who lives in New York city. His students speak highly of him: "I was able to connect with Thomas Hutchings and I have been taking lessons with him for about a year now. I am so grateful to have found a teacher as patient, friendly, and down to earth as Thomas. He has made everything about learning how to play enjoyable by tailoring chords, notes and arpeggios to beats that I like. He is an awesome teacher and I would recommend Thomas to anyone no matter their skill level. " -Quincy (Beginner Student)
